Do Not Be Imposed Upon.
Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. For sale by H. A.
Rotermund.

Cured of Lame Back After 15 Years of Suffering.
"I had been troubled with lame back for 15 years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G.
Bisher, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by all druggists.

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug possum root for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses.
Dr. Pierce uses the same root—
called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription" skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective and protect the stomach from functional disturbances.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not only a "patent medicine," but it is the carefully wrought out and thoroughly tested real prescription of a real physician in a real practice.
Dr. Pierce's unparalleled success with this remedy was such that more women use it than any one doctor could attend to in a private practice. This induced him to manufacture it on a sufficiently liberal scale to meet the demand.
By his own special processes, he extracts, combines and preserves the medicinal qualities of the several ingredients without the use of alcohol (using chemically pure glycerine instead), thus rendering it absolutely safe for any woman of any age and in any condition to use freely. The names of the ingredients are:
Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Union root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root.
Miss Mary Rohlfack, No. 73 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, Treasurer of the Woman's Progressive Union, writes:
"I had headache, backache, and was very nervous, scarcely able to sleep more than two hours at a time. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and was delighted with the result. Within a week I was sleeping splendidly. Continued using the 'Favorite Prescription' for eight weeks, and then stopped, for I was perfectly well.
Ever since then your medicine has been my Favorite Prescription." too. I recommend it to every one."
Constipation although a little ill, begins big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

KERBY
J. H. Austin is in Grants Pass this week.
Alice Brown is stepping around the streets of Kerby with a proud air since the arrival of a daughter at his home.
Work has again been put into progress at the Calumet & Oregon mine.
Development work is now being forwarded with three shifts of men.
Frank Hogue's new residence has been completed and George Mower's is rapidly nearing completion. Both houses are built on up-to-date plans, and are ornaments to the town.
The following is a list of Kerby people who have gone to attend the fair: Ora Smith and wife, Frank Hogue and wife, Elta Stevenson, H. S. Woodcock, Ed Burke, Alex George and "Biz" Nauke.

The town of Kerby is going to have a water system at last. Plans have been drawn up and the lumber is being sawed for a 40 foot tower and a 40,000 gallon tank, to be erected on a lot near the hotel. Kerby has long needed a protection against fire.
The 11 year old son of Mr. Reynolds, near Waldo, met with an accident which came near proving fatal. He fell while trying to climb into a moving wagon and was run over. He sustained a broken rib and a few slight injuries. Dr. Brown reports the injuries not serious.

A rich strike has just been made at the Hard Scabble mine at Preston Peak near the one lately discovered by Alex Brown and John Farren. The ledge measures 20 feet wide with a solid wall on each side. The surface rock shows good indications of large bodies of ore below. Development work will begin there as early as possible next Spring. Owing to the lateness of the season and the high altitude work could not begin any sooner.

THREE JURORS CURED
Of Cholera Morbus With One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Chelbourne county, Alabama.
He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead saying that he had what I sent for but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the box I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one 25 cent bottle cured the three of us."
For sale by all druggists.

HYOMEI
Cures Catarrh—Breathe It.
No dangerous drugs or alcoholic concoctions are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used.
Breathed through the inhaler, the balsamic healing of Hyomei penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose and throat, and thus kills the catarrhal germs, heals the irritated mucous membrane, and gives complete and permanent cure.
Hyomei is the simplest, most pleasant and the only guaranteed cure for catarrh that has been discovered.
Complete outfits $1.00; extra bottles, 50 cents. For sale by Rotermund.

A Cold Settled in His Kidneys A. J. Jennesse, 9201 Butler St., Chicago, writes: "I am a switchman and am out in all kinds of weather. I took a cold which settled in my kidneys and I was in bad shape. I tried several advertised remedies with no benefit, until I was recommended to try Foley's Kidney Cure. Two-thirds of a bottle cured me." For sale by H. A. Rotermund.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUIN-INE Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W.
Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

STILL LOWER RATE TO PORTLAND FAIR

Big Rush of Visitors Expected and Exhibits Held Up to Previous Perfection.

Many people are hesitating about attending the Lewis and Clark fair fearing that as it closes October 15 the exhibits will many of them be removed before that date and that the fair will not now be as attractive as it was earlier in the season.

The fact is both the management and the exhibitors expect the biggest attendance for the closing days and they are keeping the fair up to its greatest perfection to give the late comers as great a treat as the early visitors had.

The Southern Pacific has a special rate in effect now of 11-10 fare for the round trip from all Southern Oregon points and for September 28 and 29 the company has made still greater reduction in the round trip fare. For these two days the fare from Grants Pass will be $7.50 and from Gledale it will be $6.50, Wolf Creek $6.50, Leland $6.50, Merlin $7.25, Woodville $7.75, Gold Hill $8, Medford $8.50, and Ashland $9. These tickets will be on sale on the evening of the 27th and will be good for ten days stay in Portland and for Pullman as well as day coaches.
The sale of these tickets will close on the evening of the 29th and the trains for that evening will be the last they can be used for Portland bound.

WILDERVILLE

J. H. Robinson is on the sick list.
Mrs. Lizzie Bull and children are attending the fair this week.
Quite showery the past few days.
Claude and Kirk Robinson are attending school again at Eugene.
Luther Robinson is attending the Lewis and Clark fair this week.
Again we hear the ring of the school bell, with Miss Tilla Foss as teacher.
Mrs. Baehs and children stopped off at Charles Smith's while Mr. Baehs attended conference.

The men are trying to get some more work done on the big dam before the high water comes to test the strength of the dam.
Rev. Clark attended conference a few days last week. We are very anxious to hear our next preacher is to be the coming year. We couldn't do better than to have the same one we had the past year.

This neighborhood was shocked Saturday last week to hear of the death of Charles McCann, brother of James McCann. He took sick Thursday evening and died Friday evening. He was not very strong and came here for his health a few months ago. He was buried in the Wilderville cemetery.

N. L. W. HOPE

Mrs. Sarah Springer and family are home from the hayrack.
Mr. and Mrs. Dave Harmon and family were the guests of Mrs. E.
Daniels Sunday.

Miss Tina English of the Grants Pass public schools, visited her parents of this place Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Walter are expected home the coming week.
They have a farm adjoining Mr. Wy-nant's where they will take up farming.

As in the Walter-Wynant wedding it does not appear who the bridesmaid was, I will make the correction. The bridesmaid was Miss Blanche Dean of Grants Pass.

H. S. Wynant and sons have begun sowing grain, they are sowing vetch and rye; they will also sow about 10 acres to timothy and alfalfa this fall and next Spring.

A FAMOUS REMEDY

Trusted My cough with Chamberlain's "An old remedy is still our doctor's best."
"I feel finer than ever before!"
"The poor consumptive should not be the victim of experiment, as he often is, but the moment the dread disease manifests its presence he should be given Bosch's German Syrup—a pure, non-alcoholic medicine that is made especially for the cure of consumption, and has a worldwide fame as a certain remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections in old and young." It is sold in all civilized countries, and has been famous as a consumption cure for almost half a century.

TWO COON STORIES.

"It's funny," said Deacon W. H. Nearpass, of Chester, N. Y., "how I found out in what part of the country Jim Bennett had been on one of his trips. Jim doesn't often go on trips, except in warm weather, when snakes are out and are ready to let him discover something new about 'em.
But this time the season must have been pretty well along, for Jim said folks were gathering their chestnuts where he was."

"He was driving along, thinking how he didn't tell me where it was where he was driving along, and he came to a man working away in a field like all possessed, with a pick and shovel. Jim Bennett says he stopped and looked at the man."
"Hello, neighbor! Short rest, eh?"
"The man quit digging and leaned on his pick."

"No," said he, looking back at Jim. "I dunno as I'm any way short o' meat."
"Then Jim says he looked back at the man."

"Why, you're digging to get a groundhog out, eh?"
"The man looked back at Jim:
"No, I ain't diggin' to get a groundhog out. I'm diggin' to get a coon in."

"Digging to get a coon in?" he says he hollered. "Why, that's kind o' queer, ain't it?"

"Maybe it is and maybe it ain't," the man hollered back at Jim. "That's according to how folks look at it."

"But where's the coon?"
"Come over here and I'll tell you," the man hollered back at Jim.

"So Jim says he tied his horse to the fence and went over into the field where he was. The man leaned on his pick and looked at Jim awhile and then said:
"The coon is dead!"

"Jim Bennett says this gave him a real start, because he thought he was face to face with a crazy man; but he stood his ground, and the man said:
"I'm digging his grave!"

"Then the man proceeded with his talk, and Jim says it wasn't long before he found that the man wasn't crazy, not by a jug full, but was simply a kind and observant citizen, raising strange facts."

"Yes, sir," the man said to Jim Bennett, according to what Jim tells me, "he was a coon among 'coons, and I'm going to plant him here because he was so all-pervasive smart that he deserves to have a gravestone."

"He made one mistake and mistake to be sure. I didn't want him to go out after the chestnuts. The boys was to blame for his goin'." And I'll tell you, Jim Carter, he ain't the first time I run agin' him."

"My boys is full o' sin and vim, and they move around this district coon and goatskin apple and chestnuts and such, like boys with vim generally does. Jim Carter has got a chestnut tree on his place, Jim's mine, that beats all the trees I know of, and my boys always give a hankerker-chief after that tree 'long about this time o' year; but Jim Carter keeps his eyes on coons, and my boys have got to put up with a good deal o' botherin' by him if they let their hankerkerchief for that tree get the best of 'em."

"I've got a spy glass at home, a slamin' good one. Jim Carter lives a mile from that chestnut tree o' his, but he keeps every evening at every chestnut he gets to see if it's been tampered with; so what does my boys do but take to leggin' that spy glass with 'em and sweepin' the country with it, so if Jim is comin' from any direction they kin see him long before he gets within any chestnut tree. Of course, that made Jim Carter look more than a mile away when he went to look for his chestnut tree to be safe for 'em."

"This mornin' that coon o' mine, after he had looked the baby to sleep and fed the chickens and the pigs, so Jim Bennett tells me the man said, 'look down that spy glass and started out.' Now I didn't know this then, or I'd 'a' found out more about it, and either stopped the coon or given him some plum. But I know it now."

"He took that spy glass 'cause he had been with the boys durin' one or two of their hankerkerchief trips, and went over to Jim Carter's to 'confer.' He chestnutted and chestnutted, sweepin' the country every now and then with the spy glass to keep track o' Jim."

"He saw Jim by and by comin' toward the tree. But that coon kept on chestnut-tin' and kept on chestnuttin', so unfortunate him, that Jim Carter took there and loaded him with a half a dozen buckshot, and the coon came out of the tree dead."

"He has made a sad mistake, smart as he was. He had been sweepin' the country through for the end of the spy glass. Of
for his chestnut tree to be safe for 'em."

"Jim Bennett says that was more than he ever wanted to know before and he never wanted to know after. He chestnut-ted and chestnutted, sweepin' the country every now and then with the spy glass to keep track o' Jim."
